talk
they hear you®

When you are concerned about a student, remember you are not alone. You have a team of school professionals to support you.

Student assistance professionals are there to help when something is going on with a student. They will work with you, the student, and the student's family to develop a complete picture of what's going on and engage resources to help.

www.underagedrinking.samhsa.gov

SAMHSA
Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration

#TalkTheyHearYou

PEP20-03-01-076