Using Multimedia to Introduce Your EBP

Using Multimedia to Introduce Your EBP is a collection of educational tools to help you introduce your Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders program to a variety of stakeholder groups, including the following:

- Mental health authorities;
- Substance abuse authorities;
- Community members;
- Employers;
- Advisory group members;
- Consumers;
- Families and other supporters; and
- Agency-wide staff.

Anyone who is trained in the Integrated Treatment model (including program leaders, integrated specialists, employment specialists, and advisory group members) should be able to use these tools during in-service training meetings or for community presentations to educate stakeholder groups.

For references, see the booklet The Evidence.
This KIT is part of a series of Evidence-Based Practices KITs created by the Center for Mental Health Services, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

This booklet is part of the Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders KIT that includes a DVD, CD-ROM, and seven booklets:

- How to Use the Evidence-Based Practices KITs
- Getting Started with Evidence-Based Practices

Introductory Video

This film gives viewers basic information about the Integrated Treatment program, including the following:

- Practice principles;
- Practice philosophy and values;
- Basic rationale for integrated services; and
- How the evidence-based practice has helped consumers and families.

English and Spanish versions of the Introductory Video are included on the DVD in the KIT.

Sample Brochure

Using a brochure to introduce your Integrated Treatment program to consumers, families, and community members is an easy way to disseminate basic information about Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders.

We include a paper copy of the English and Spanish versions of the brochure in Appendix A of this booklet. Electronic copies are on the CD-ROM in this KIT so that you can tailor the brochure to your specific Integrated Treatment program.
Introductory PowerPoint Presentation

We encourage those who are trained in the evidence-based model to offer basic community presentations and in-service seminars using the Introductory PowerPoint slides in this KIT. We include a paper copy of the presentation in Appendix B of this booklet. An electronic copy is on the CD-ROM in this KIT so that you can tailor it to your specific Integrated Treatment program.

The slides provide background information about the following:

- Evidence-based practices in general;
- Practice principles; and
- Critical components of the evidence-based model.

Use the presentation along with the other tools in this section to educate a wide array of stakeholders.

Why participate in Integrated Treatment?

Substance use disorders are common among people with serious mental illnesses and put people at risk for many other problems. Integrated Treatment programs help consumers develop hope, knowledge, skills, and the support they need to manage their problems and to pursue meaningful life goals.

Integrated Treatment programs fully support consumers in their recovery process.

What is Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders?

In evidence-based Integrated Treatment programs, consumers receive combined treatment for mental illnesses and substance use disorders from the same practitioner or treatment team.

How does Integrated Treatment work?

- Integrated services: Mental health and substance abuse treatment are integrated to meet the needs of people with co-occurring disorders.
- Cross-trained practitioners: Integrated treatment specialists are trained to treat both substance use disorders and serious mental illnesses.
- Stage-wise treatment: Integrated treatment specialists match services to the consumer’s stage of recovery.
- Motivational interventions: Motivational interventions are used to help consumers identify and pursue personal recovery goals.
- Cognitive-behavioral approach: A cognitive-behavioral approach is used to help consumers identify and change their thoughts, feelings, and behaviors related to their co-occurring disorders.
- Multiple formats: Services are available in individual, group, self-help, and family formats.
- Integrated medication services: Medication services are integrated with other services.
Tratamiento integrado para trastornos simultáneos

Integrando los tratamientos para la salud mental y el abuso de sustancias para satisfacer las necesidades de las personas que sufren de trastornos simultáneos

¿Por qué participar en un tratamiento integrado?
Los trastornos asociados con el abuso de sustancias son comunes entre las personas que sufren de enfermedades mentales graves y ponen a las personas en riesgo de muchos otros problemas. Los programas de tratamiento integrado ayudan a los usuarios a desarrollar la esperanza, los conocimientos, las habilidades, y el apoyo que necesitan para manejar sus problemas y marcarse objetivos importantes para su vida.

¿Qué es el tratamiento integrado para trastornos simultáneos?
En los programas de Tratamientos integrados basados en la evidencia, los usuarios reciben tratamiento combinado para las enfermedades mentales y los trastornos asociados con el abuso de sustancias del mismo profesional de la salud o del mismo equipo de tratamiento.

¿Cómo funciona el tratamiento integrado?

- Servicios integrados
  Los tratamientos para la salud mental y el abuso de sustancias se integran para satisfacer las necesidades de las personas que sufren de trastornos simultáneos.

- Profesionales de formación polivalente
  Los especialistas en servicios integrados están capacitados para tratar tanto los trastornos asociados con el abuso de sustancias como las enfermedades mentales graves.

- Tratamiento según la etapa de recuperación
  Los especialistas en tratamientos integrados hacen coincidir los servicios con la etapa de recuperación del usuario.

- Intervenciones que motivan
  Las intervenciones que motivan se utilizan para ayudar a los usuarios a identificar y lograr metas personales de recuperación.

- Enfoque cognitivo-conductual
  Se utiliza un enfoque cognitivo-conductual para ayudar a los usuarios a identificar y cambiar sus pensamientos, sentimientos y conductas relacionados con sus trastornos simultáneos.

- Formatos múltiples
  Los servicios están disponibles en formatos individuales, de grupo, de autoayuda y de familia.

- Servicios de medicamentos integrados
  Los servicios de medicamentos están integrados con otros servicios.

Los programas de tratamiento integrado apoyan totalmente a los usuarios en su proceso de recuperación.

Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders
An Evidence-Based Practice
What Are Evidence-Based Practices?

Services that have consistently demonstrated their effectiveness in helping people with mental illnesses achieve their desired goals.

Effectiveness was established by different people who conducted rigorous studies and obtained similar outcomes.
Examples of Evidence-Based Practices

- Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders
- Supported Employment
- Assertive Community Treatment
- Family Psychoeducation
- Illness Management and Recovery
Why Implement Evidence-Based Practices?

According to the New Freedom Commission on Mental Health:

State-of-the-art treatments, based on decades of research, are not being transferred from research to community settings.
Why Implement Evidence-Based Practices? (continued)

According to the New Freedom Commission on Mental Health:

If effective treatments were more efficiently delivered through our mental health services system . . . millions of Americans would be more successful in school, at work, and in their communities

—Michael Hogan, Chairman
Integrated Treatment is a research-proven model of treatment for people with serious mental illnesses and co-occurring substance use disorders.

Consumers receive combined treatment for mental illnesses and substance use disorders from the same practitioner or treatment team. They receive one consistent message about treatment and recovery.
Using Multimedia to Introduce Your EBP

Mental health and substance abuse treatment are integrated to meet the needs of people with co-occurring disorders.

Integrated treatment specialists are trained to treat both substance use and serious mental illnesses.

Co-occurring disorders are treated in a stage-wise fashion with different services provided at different stages.

Motivational interventions are used to treat consumers in all stages, but especially in the persuasion stage.

Practice Principles for Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders
Practice Principles for Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders

- Substance abuse counseling, using a cognitive-behavioral approach, is used to treat consumers in the active treatment and relapse prevention stages.

- Multiple formats for services are available, including individual, group, self-help, and family.

- Medication services are integrated and coordinated with psychosocial services.
Treatment is Integrated

Mental health and substance abuse treatment are evaluated and addressed

- Same team
- Same location
- Same time

Treatment targets the individual needs of people with co-occurring disorders and is integrated on organizational and clinical levels
Treatment is in a Stage-Wise Fashion

Precontemplation—Engagement
Assertive outreach, practical help (housing, entitlements, other), and an introduction to individual, family, group, and self-help treatment formats

Contemplation and Preparation—Persuasion
Education, goal setting, and building awareness of problem through motivational counseling

Action—Active treatment
Counseling and treatment based on cognitive-behavioral techniques, skills training, and support from families and self-help groups

Maintenance—Relapse prevention
Continued counseling and treatment based on relapse prevention techniques, skill building, and ongoing support to promote recovery
Integrated Treatment Recovery Model

- Hope is critical
- Services and treatment goals are consumer-driven
- Unconditional respect and compassion for consumers is essential
- Integrated treatment specialists are responsible for engaging consumers and supporting their recovery

Focus on consumers’ goals and functioning, not on adhering to treatment

Consumer choice, shared decisionmaking, and consumer/family education are important

Integrated treatment is associated with the following positive outcomes:

- Reduced substance use
- Improvement in psychiatric symptoms and functioning
- Decreased hospitalization
- Increased housing stability
- Fewer arrests and
- Improved quality of life

—(Drake et al., 2001)
Summary

Integrated Treatment for Co-Occurring Disorders is effective in the recovery process for consumers with co-occurring disorders

The goal of this evidence-based practice is to support consumers in their recovery process

In Integrated Treatment programs, the same practitioners, working in one setting, provide mental health and substance abuse interventions in a coordinated fashion

Consumers receive one consistent message about treatment and recovery
